PROJECT

Our urban village unites a variety of harmonizing styles. The huge window fronts and the spacious terraces are characteristic. They come to me like additional living rooms. Rooms that simply reach up to the sky.

They seem to flow gently towards the lake. Thus they make Five Acres a private and communal place at the same time. Just the way I like it.

Each house has its own individual perspective on the water. With each axis of view, new, exciting views emerge. They are pictures that make you 'sea addicted'.

Highlights

- Surface depth wooden window with triple glazing
- Heat exchanger for using geothermal energy
- Increased sound insulation
- Underfloor heating
- Private gardens with personalized terrace and Garden design
- Choice of floor coverings from wooden parquet up to innovative stone floor
- High quality equipment variants in the bathrooms

LOCATION
